

I Can Have Everything

©1996 George Stetten BMI
not for redistribution

Living through tragedy, coming on comedy,
Laughing at laughter, loving in love,
I been a'messin' around until I finally found
Someone who needs me, someone who cares.
I can have everything.
My mama tells me, I can have everything.

You can look round the world to find a perfect girl,
You can hold heaven right in your hand,
You might be too blind to see, it couldn't happen to me,
Someone who needs you, someone who cares.
You can have everything.
My mama tells me, you can have everything.

We are all trying to find some precious piece of mind,
We are all soldiers far from our home,
You figure once in a while you can make somebody smile,
Someone who needs us, someone who cares.
We can have everything.
My mama tells me, we can have everything.