1. Sit-ting 'cross the ta - ble, talk - in' tur - key with the old gray goose of grim de - spair,
2. All the birds are voic - ing their o - pi - nion, seems I've ruf - fled quite a feather or two
3. Star - in' at a he - ron feel - ing blue - like, ask my ea - gle eye how bad things looked, try - ing not to sing a - long in her key, trying to keep ne - go - ti - a - tions fair.

that I dare to en - ter their do - mi - nion, strang - est dog - gone bird that e - ver flew.
sym - ptoms of a fre - quent flier are flu - like still my goose is not com - plete - ly cooked.

Shock - ing words of mock - ing birds are bit - ter warn - ings of the mourn - ing doves are dire Still I'll keep my car - di - nal di - rec - tion, head up in the clouds a - bove the choir.
I may be a lame duck with a swan song, still my plu mage is my best at - tire, blue jays and gold fin - ches are a - flit - ter all be - cause I'm such a fre - quent flier.

Leave it to the birds to pass in - spec - tion, I'm al - read - y billed a fre - quent flier.
long as I can sing this Au - du - bon song, I will al - ways be a fre - quent flier.
